2015 Junior Broker Distinction Award

Established in 2003, the Distinction Award pays tribute to insurance brokers' achievements and initiatives.

The Distinction Award is primarily an opportunity to show recognition. Over and above any competitive aspects, the RCCAQ seeks to give those individuals who believe in the brokerage profession a chance to shine.

If you are under 35 years of age and are working as an insurance broker for an RCCAQ member firm, you are invited to submit an application for the 2014 Junior Broker Distinction Award.

The award winner will receive:

- A symbolic $1,000 cash award
- A full-length article in the spring issue of Liaison magazine
- Mentions in various media outlets

The deadline for applications is September 20, 2015, midnight.

Good luck!

Question 1

List the professional accomplishments that have brought you distinction in your brokerage career.

- ✎ Describe your most significant professional accomplishments and indicate how they have set you apart from your colleagues.
- ✎ Describe the talents or skills you demonstrated on those occasions and specify why you take particular pride in the results obtained.

Question 2

What aspects of your training and career have allowed you to stand out from your colleagues?

- ✎ List any degrees you have obtained and attach supporting documentation (e.g. copies of diplomas). Be sure to mention any additional training courses you have completed (supplementary training, specialization, etc.)

Question 3

In career terms, where do you see yourself in 10 years? What preparation are you undertaking towards that goal?

- ✎ Tell us about yourself 10 years from now. What will you be doing professionally? What will you have learned? What will your concerns and goals be? How is your vision of the future influencing you today?

Question 4

Is there anything else you would like to mention in support of your application?

- ✎ In addition to the aspects discussed in the previous questions, you can enhance your application by adding information that you consider valuable.
